

TUESDAY, JANUARY 29, 1745.

Rome, January 9.

WE begin to be of Opinion, that either the Army of M. de Gages will not enter at all into Tuscany, or that at least this Expedition will be delay'd for some Time; and our Conjectures are grounded on the Spanish Officers having fitted up Theatres, and hired Musicians at their own Expence, to divert them at their Quarters at Orvieto and so, the Performers being engaged to the Month March. In the mean time, that Army is recruiting, and their Cavalry is in a manner all remounted, the Remittances from Spain have been of late so considerable, that we are morally certain, some of greater Consequence is on the Carpet, than has attempted in the two last Campaigns; for, otherwise vast Sums must be very ill employ'd. The not long ago consecrated, with great Solemnity, and a Suit of Armour, which are to be presented to a certain Sovereign Prince that is shortly to be Field. The common Opinion is, that they are sent to the King of the Two Sicilies; but if it was any Foundation for this Notion, one would think that the Court would make no great Secret of it, it is evident from their Behaviour, that it is something in it of Myttery; which, however, will be long before it breaks out.

December 22. The King is much better than could have expected; and, in all Appearance, as well as the last Fit of his Distemper. On Saturday he went to see the Candlesticks which have been made for the Patriarchal Church here, by the best Artists at Paris. Notwithstanding the Precaution in obtaining his Britannick Majesty's Pass, for the on board which they were embark'd, she was taken a few Days ago. These Candlesticks are of Silver, and finish'd beyond any Thing that has hitherto been seen. It is said, that they cost his Majesty no less than 1000 Roman Crowns. It is said, that the Infant Prince, will be very soon married to the Princess de Nemours. There is a great Fleet of English Ships in our Bar, that will enter the Port as soon as the War will permit. We expect, hourly, the Arrival of a certain Great Minister from Madrid; who is said to be charg'd with a Commission of Importance to this Court.

January 17. It is impossible to express the Contention we are in here, on the Demise of the Emperor; the Consequences of which none of our Politicians think themselves wise enough to foresee. But I shall never our Understandings may be, it is very plain, that the French have brought us to our feeling, as if they were Lords of Germany, and had a Right over us by Conquest. They have imposed 125,000 Florins a Month Contribution on the Elector of Mentz, and have taxed the neighbouring States in proportion, using such Acts of Violence in the taking these Contributions, as no General, who was to preserve good Discipline, would permit, in a Country reduced by Force of Arms. We have had an extraordinary Proof of this, in what happened two Days ago at Neuwied, which is the Residence of the Elector of that Name. There had been a Dutch Colonel for sometime beating up for Recruits, and the French took it into their Heads to carry him off, together with his military Chest. It was with this View, that in the Night of the 24th, Captain Bourdonville, the Head of 200 French Hussars, entered the Town, and committed many Insolencies. His Excellency the Elector not induring to see his Subjects treated in this manner under his Nose, assembled Two Companies of his own Militia, and put himself at their Head. The French Hussars shewing a strong Inclination to attack him, the Count, who was apprehensive his People would not behave very well, as they were but just raised, advanced towards the Captain, in order to converse with him; upon which M. de Bourdonville ordered his Hussars to surround and make him Prisoner; which they did, and disarmed him very rudely. The Count expostulated with the Officer on this flagrant ill Conduct, towards a Person of his Rank, but to no manner Purpose; so that he was forced to sign a Paper, acknowledging himself a Prisoner of War, before he could obtain his Liberty on his Parole. His Excellency has sent a large Account of this Affair hither, from which the foregoing Particulars are taken. We are very apprehensive, that as the Regular Troops in Alsace will march directly into the Empire, upon the News of the Emperor's Decease; and from this Apprehension it has been resolv'd to put a strong Garrison into the Castle of Alschaff-nbourg, whither most of the Inhabitants of the adjacent Countries have already conveyed the most valuable of their Effects. Here is a Rumour, that M. Coigny will be sent to command the Troops in the Room of M. Maillebois; and that he has only made a Tour to Paris, to receive his Master's Orders before he takes upon him that Command.

SCOTLAND.

Edinburgh, January 21. The Ships arrived in the Frith last Week from London, are the John and Margaret, Steil, the Providence, Cook, the Katharine, Lawson, the James, Christy, and the Russel Jamison. They came with other Ships for Aberdeen, &c. under Convoy of the Greyhound Man of War, the Hon. Capt. Keppel, and the Trial Sloop of War, Capt. Stringer.

We hear, the above two Ships of War will sail next Wednesday, with such of the Trade as shall be then ready to set out for London.

By Advices from Bass we learn, that upon the 12th current, the Ship of David Allan, as she was going out of the Harbour of Gairloch, had the Misfortune to strike on the Rocks without the Piers, whereby her Rudder was beat off; and she sprung such a Leak, that she soon after sunk in the Bay. The Men were saved, but lost all their Chests and Bedding.

Upon the 5th Inst. died at Kelfo, after a Week's Illness, in the 41st Year of his Age, much regretted by all his Friends and Acquaintance, Capt. John West, Commander of a Troop in the Hon. Col. Cardner's Regiment of Dragoons.

COUNTRY NEWS.

Bristol, January 26. The Diligence, No. 1, from Bristol for Cork, with Sugar and Tobacco, is ashore in Milford Haven.

The Townsend Privateer, Capt. Lewis, of this Port, has taken a Martinico Ship, of Two hundred Tons, laden with Sugar and Coffee, and brought her into Kingroad, after an Engagement of three Hours and a Half; in which the French had five Men wounded, but none kill'd; she carried 10 Guns and 38 Men.

A few Days ago one William Moore, a Ropemaker, was committed to Ivelchester Goal, for robbing a Scotch Pedlar of his Pack, after they had been drinking together at the Weavers Arms in Bedminster. It seems they walk'd together till they came near Bedminster Church-Lane; when Moore took an Opportunity to push the Scotchman over the Bank, and forcibly took away his Pack, and made off with it; but the Man crying out Murder, and one of the Neighbours coming to his Help, the Robber was pursu'd, and taken, tho' late in the Evening; but made his Escape; and was at length taken selling some of the Scotchman's Goods on Redcliff-Hill.

P. S. Yesterday we receiv'd the disagreeable News of the following Ships being taken by a French Man of War of 26 Nine-Pounders, and 280 Men; viz. the Marlborough, Hill; (the Captain was shot thro' the Head the first Volley of Small Arms they fir'd) the Swallow, Long, both bound from Cork to Jamaica; the Martha of Liverpool, and the Sarah of Lancaster. And we hear the Man of War was in Chase of the rest of the Fleet, which consisted of 13 Sail; they left Cork the 4th Instant, and on the 11th this Man of War fell in with Part of them. Some Days after she also took a Philadelphia Ship; but a Gentleman in the Swallow ransom'd her, who is arrived here, and brought this Advice.

The above Men of War came out of Brest, in Company with another, which she lost the Day before she met this Fleet. Had they been both together, 'tis thought the whole Fleet must have been taken.

Norwich, January 26. By Letters from Yarmouth we are inform'd, that a Ship was taken within Sight of Lowestoff Town, by a French Privateer of 20 Guns.

On Tuesday Evening, about Eleven o'Clock, as Francis Long, Esq; and his Lady, were going Home in their Coach to Spixworth, they were attack'd by a single Foot-pad just out of Magdalen-Gate; who robb'd them of above 40 Shillings, and made off undiscovered.

The same Day, upon the Complaint of an Officer in the Guards recruiting here, Mr. Taylor, a considerable Farmer at Eccles, was fin'd in the Penalty of 5 l. by order of four Justices for the County; it being prov'd upon him, that he had assisted a Servant of his in deserting, after he had been enlisted by the Officer.

Yesterday arrived here the George, Edwards, from Philadelphia for Belfast; who was taken by a French Man of War, of 26 Guns, call'd the Emerald, from Brest; and ransom'd the 12th Inst. by Mr. Goodson, of this Place, for 100 l. who gives the following Account. On the 4th Instant about 20 Sail of Ships sail'd from Cork, laden with Provisions for Jamaica, the Leeward Islands, and Barbadoes; and on the 9th, 10th, and 11th, the above French Man of War, who, with another Man of War of 30 Guns, that he parted with the Day before, were sent out from Brest, on purpose to catch this Fleet; with strict Orders, if he met with any of them, being laden with Provisions, not to ransom them; and accordingly the 26 Gun Ship took the Sarah, William Bennison, of Lancaster; the 9th, the Martha, Willmor; the 10th, the Swallow, Lang; and the 11th, the Marlborough, Hyer; in Lat. 51 : 48 : 'Tis wish'd the other Man of War may not have met with the Remainder, but if she did not, the 26 Gun Ship intended to pursue them; for the Swallow, on board of whom Mr. Goodson was Super-cargo, parted with them the Day before. The Townsend Privateer, Capt. Lewis, brought in Yesterday the Fidelle, Capt. Lager, from Martinico for Bourdeaux, with 280 Hogsheads of Sugar, and 10 Casks of Coffee; who left that Island the 28th of November, with four other Ships; He says, The French Privateers have taken several Vessels with Flour, &c. and a new Snow, laden with Beef and Butter; and also a Ship and a Snow from Guinea, which were brought in there about the Middle of September.
